Columbus Nugget

Not too many Columbus natives may recall the hullabaloo surrounding the dedication of the statue of Christopher Columbus in front of city hall on October 12, 1955. Interest in the statue, a gift from the citizens of Genoa, Italy, was so high that a trio of broadcast professionals from WBNS-TV was dispatched to Genoa to provide complete coverage for channel 10 viewers. An estimated 200,000 people, the largest crowd ever assembled in downtown Columbus to that date, turned out on that fall evening to welcome Christopher Columbus to his new home.

Fifth Third Bank

In 2003, United Way of Central Ohio determined that it was time to undertake a formal community assessment process and use the results to affirm or revise its critical need areas: education, employment, health, housing, neighborhood development, race relations and safety.

They also wanted to examine their community goals and community objectives, to ensure that they represent the community needs that are most appropriate for United Way support.

The United Way Community Assessment 2004 report is the first step in this process. It describes community conditions and community responses to those conditions. Over the coming months, United Way volunteers and staff will use the information in the Community Assessment as a context for redeveloping long term community goals and objectives to guide United Way's community impact efforts over the next three to five years.

Community Research Partners (CRP) was asked by United Way to undertake research and work with the Community Assessment Advisory Committee to prepare the United Way Community Assessment 2004. CRP is a non-profit research and evaluation center formed by United Way of Central Ohio, the City of Columbus and the John Glenn Institute at The Ohio State University.

CPR's Roberta Garber and Michael Banish will unveil the findings of the Community Assessment Report. Janet Jackson, president & CEO of the United Way of Central Ohio, will serve as moderator for this important forum.

About Us...

CMC firmly believes in the free expression of all ideas and the benefits of an open exchange of information. CMC is non-partisan and takes no positions on issues.

Anyone can join! From the beginning, there have been no barriers to membership and all forums have welcomed the general public. Diversity, both in programming and membership, is one of the many benefits of being involved in CMC. Everyone is welcome.

Each forum is an hour-long program that starts with a brief introduction followed by 25-30 minutes of speaker comments. The final half hour is filled with unfiltered, unrehearsed questions from the audience.
